Look a little closer

The Rijksmuseum brings Dutch art and history together in a building that also shapes the visit. Choose a few rooms rather than trying to cover every collection. Paintings and everyday objects can reveal different sides of the same period. Notice the materials, people and trade connections behind the works, as well as the celebrated names.

Something to notice

Choose one object that is not a painting. What does it reveal about the person who used it?

A little consideration

Follow visitor and photography rules, leave objects and historic surfaces untouched, and give other people room.
