Look a little closer

NDSM's former shipyard landscape gives Amsterdam a different scale: broad outdoor spaces, industrial structures and cultural uses beside the IJ. Walk the public areas and distinguish permanent features from temporary installations or events. Studios, exhibitions and venues are separate destinations. This remains an active site, so follow works notices and respect working areas.

Something to notice

Compare a large industrial structure with one small contemporary intervention.

A little consideration

Stay on permitted public paths, leave entrances clear and respect residents, workers and other visitors.
