Look a little closer

Plaza de Mayo places the Casa Rosada, Cabildo and Metropolitan Cathedral around Buenos Aires' historic civic center. Its name recalls the revolution of May 1810. The white scarves around the central pyramid carry the memory of the Mothers of Plaza de Mayo and their continuing search for justice.

Something to notice

Walk slowly around the pyramid. Notice the different ages and architectural voices of the buildings facing the square. Leave space for the stories this place holds.

A little consideration

Respect memorial symbols, gatherings and worshippers. Do not photograph people closely without consent. Follow police instructions and temporary closures.
