Look a little closer

Designed by Carlos Thays, Parque Sarmiento brings broad promenades, trees, sculpture and lake views to Nueva Córdoba. A short urban walk can focus on the Deodoro Roca axis and its public viewpoints without treating the whole park as one long trail.

Something to notice

Use public paths and current park signs; separate attractions inside the wider park may have their own hours and entry rules.

A little consideration

Take litter with you, respect planted areas and leave wildlife undisturbed.
