Look a little closer

Stockbridge offers a neighborhood-scale walk through shops, residential streets and approaches to the Water of Leith. Begin around Raeburn Place and follow public pavements, noticing how small businesses share the street with homes. Market trading varies by day. Picturesque side streets remain places where people live; leave entrances clear and avoid turning a quiet doorway into a photo queue.

Something to notice

Compare an active shopfront with a residential threshold. How does each invite or limit entry?

A little consideration

Stay on permitted public paths, leave entrances clear and respect residents, workers and other visitors.
