Look a little closer

Oltrarno offers a change of scale across the river from Florence's central monuments. Begin around Piazza Santo Spirito and follow public streets with attention to workshops, homes and small businesses. Craft is working life rather than a performance for visitors. Churches, studios and private courtyards have separate access arrangements; ask before entering or photographing a workspace.

Something to notice

Notice a tool, material or shopfront detail from the public street. What kind of work does it suggest?

A little consideration

Stay on permitted public paths, leave entrances clear and respect residents, workers and other visitors.
