Look a little closer

Plaza Mayor brings Madrid's historic center into a broad enclosed public space. Arcades, balconies and an equestrian statue give the square its composition. Walk around the edges as well as through the middle, noticing how entrances connect it to the smaller streets beyond.

Something to notice

Compare the rhythm of the arches with the windows above. Notice how a passage changes the view of the square.

A little consideration

Keep paths and doorways clear. Respect residents, use marked crossings and ask before photographing people closely.
