Look a little closer

The Roman Forum and Palatine combine archaeological landscapes at the heart of ancient Rome. Columns, paving and surviving walls suggest different kinds of public and private space. Use the official site map rather than trying to identify every fragment, and leave time for the terrain.

Something to notice

Choose one column or stretch of paving. Notice its material, its setting and what survives beside it.

A little consideration

Respect barriers and historic surfaces. Leave stonework untouched and follow visitor and photography rules.

YOUR DAY
