Look a little closer

The Pantheon brings an ancient columned portico into a vast domed interior. Its open oculus makes daylight part of the architecture. The building is also a church, so a visit combines architectural attention with respect for worship and the people for whom this is a sacred place.

Something to notice

Follow the light from the oculus to the floor. Notice how the dome changes your sense of the room.

A little consideration

Respect barriers and historic surfaces. Leave stonework untouched and follow visitor and photography rules.
