Look a little closer

Trevi Fountain sets a theatrical stone landscape against Palazzo Poli. Its sculpted figures, rock forms and water turn a compact square into a memorable scene. Look beyond the wish-making tradition, and check the current access rules before approaching the lower basin area.

Something to notice

Look at one carved detail and one movement of water. Notice how the fountain uses the building behind it.

A little consideration

Stay out of the water, keep fountains and stone edges clear, and follow crowd controls. Do not sit or climb on the monument.
