Look a little closer

Bukchon is a residential district, not an open-air theme park. Follow permitted public lanes and look for the way tiled roofs step with the hills. Choose a modest route and keep voices low: everyday life continues behind the walls, even where a view has become famous.

Something to notice

Look at rooflines from a public lane without stopping in a doorway.

A little consideration

No tourist access to the restricted zone outside permitted hours; respect residents and Sunday rest guidance.
