Look a little closer

Begin around Cheonggye Plaza and follow the central stream toward Gwangtonggyo, returning when it suits your pace. This is a short introduction to the restored waterway rather than a promise to walk its full length. Steps and lower paths sit close to the water, so current closure signs matter more than a planned route.

Something to notice

Under a bridge, listen to how the city sounds change beside the water.

A little consideration

Keep away from rising water and obey closed-path barriers.

YOUR DAY

Leave a little room

A detail, a feeling, a place to return to...
