Look a little closer

Shinjuku Gyoen combines contrasting garden landscapes within the city. Follow a pond edge, a broad lawn or a quieter tree-lined path. Spring blossoms and autumn leaves change the view; seasonal opening times and entry arrangements also change.

Something to notice

Choose one tree or reflection and give it a minute. Compare the shapes close to you with the distant skyline. Which detail would you sketch rather than photograph?

A little consideration

Stay on permitted paths and lawns; protect plants and wildlife. Follow garden rules and staff directions. Check current notices, especially around busy blossom-season dates.

YOUR DAY

Leave a little room

A detail, a feeling, a place to return to...
