Look a little closer

Valentino Park brings riverside paths and green space close to central Torino. The Po gives a walk a clear direction without demanding a fixed itinerary. Historic buildings within the park have their own access rules, so enjoy the public landscape without assuming their interiors are open.

Something to notice

Look at the same tree from the path and the river edge. Notice how water changes the light around it.

A little consideration

Stay on permitted paths, leave plants and wildlife undisturbed and take litter with you. Keep shared paths clear.
