Look a little closer

Monte dei Cappuccini gives a view across the Po toward Torino’s center. The hillside setting brings the river, rooftops and the Mole Antonelliana into a different relationship. Take the approach at a pace suited to you, and respect the religious and residential spaces around the viewpoint.

Something to notice

Look for a bridge, a roofline and the Mole. Notice how the river organizes the city from above.

A little consideration

Keep shared paths clear, follow barriers and staff directions, and pause only where it is safe to do so.
