Look a little closer

Vienna's Naschmarkt combines produce sellers, specialist food shops and places to eat in a long market setting. Trading patterns differ between stalls, restaurants and market days. Walk with attention to what is being sold and how people use the aisles. Nearby streets and façades add context without turning a market visit into a compulsory tasting tour.

Something to notice

Choose one unfamiliar ingredient and ask about it when a seller has time.

A little consideration

Follow visitor and photography rules, leave objects and historic surfaces untouched, and give other people room.
